"The UK security equipment market is highly competitive, with large sectors effectively commoditised. This has given rise to competitive pricing structures, and encouraged groups to distinguish themselves from competitors by offering new and innovative security solutions." – Marco Amasanti, B2B Analyst

This report looks at the following areas:

- What core areas of demand have driven recent growth in the security equipment market?
- How has the air of austerity manifested in the industry?
- What technological innovations have entered the market in recent years?
- How is the Brexit decision expected to impact the market?
- What does the future of the UK's security equipment industry look like?

The security equipment industry continues to grow on a consecutive basis. Expansion has been sustained despite the potential constraints of austerity and an increasingly competitive marketplace, with demand across the business sector remaining the primary driver of growth.
