“The sector has weathered a progressively adverse economic climate, and is forecast to continue to record value growth in 2019.”

— Francesco Salau, B2B Analyst

This report looks at the following areas:

- Innovation presents an opportunity to escape skill shortages
- Legislative changes are shifting strategic focus

Brexit presents serious challenges for the sector due to its negative effects on house prices and building costs. However the sector is already future-proofing itself by investing in new building methods that will help to lower these costs, reduce the impact of skills shortages, and reduce its environmental impact.
