“As the economy slows in the midst of the closure of industry operations due to the COVID-19 pandemic, occupational health initiatives that boost long-term productivity will start to become more common over the medium-term. Major opportunities are still available, with the focus likely to be increasingly placed on ensuring workplaces are fit for purpose in the post-COVID world.”
– Lewis Cone, Senior B2B Analyst – 8th June 2020

This report looks at the following areas:

- The impact of COVID-19 on employee health and how employers will react to new working environments.
- How the occupational health market will adapt to the post-COVID-19 environment.
- The value of individual segments in the market in 2019.
- Consumer opinion and interest in workplace initiatives and benefits.
