Intimate Hygiene and Sanitary Protection Products - UK

“The sanitary protection segment of the market continues to struggle to grow its value, although an ageing population and rise in conditions that have strong risk factors for incontinence look favourable for future incontinence product value sales. The impact of single-use products is increasingly front of mind for retailers and ...

Consumers and the Economic Outlook Q1 - UK

“Even before the conflict in Ukraine, inflation had become the biggest concern for consumers, brands and the British economy for 2022. Households are set to endure the biggest squeeze on real incomes in decades, and the conflict in Ukraine will only add to existing inflationary pressures. This is seen in ...
