Ice Cream and Frozen Treats: Incl Impact of COVID-19 - Canada

"Regardless of the innovation in ice cream, the category's success rests on a timeless and fundamental principle, which is to provide enjoyment. During the COVID-19 outbreak, this central tenet may be more important than ever and will remain so in the near term."

Snacking Eating Habits - Motivations and Attitudes: Incl Impact of COVID-19 - Canada

"Snacking remains a central part of Canadians' eating habits and as they stay home because of COVID-19, snacking's role has intensified. More time at home means more occasions to 'nosh'. Snacking brands that are able to address consumers' needs in this moment may see their relevance increase now and in ...
