

November 2021

Cooking in America - US

“Brands in the at-home food space are well positioned as the conditions surrounding the pandemic have led to an increased reliance on meals made at home. Currently, safety concerns around eating out combined with rising inflation are keeping consumers in their own kitchens. Fortunately for brands, this time spent cooking ...