

March 2018

Gas Supply and Distribution - UK

“As competition in the energy retail market continues to heat up, suppliers are branching out into other utility services, such a broadband, and bundling their multi-utility offering to gain a competitive edge. The trend towards multi-utility brands is set to continue, with more suppliers offering diversified services to broaden their ...