Watches and Jewelry - US

"The watches and jewelry category is growing, but minimally. Changes in traditional lifestyles and gifting occasions could threaten future purchase occasions. Competition is also growing, with new retailers emerging online and retailers outside the channel often being favored for their convenience and value. Retailers need to persuade consumers to shop ...

Convenience Store Foodservice - US

"C-store foodservice sales reached an estimated $39.2 billion in 2018, up 33.2% from 2013. While c-store foodservice experienced strong growth in the past, Mintel forecasts growth will start to slow, with sales reaching an estimated $48.1 billion by 2023."

Drug Store Retailing - US

"US drug store revenues are expected to be valued at over $293 billion this year. While the sector has consistently posted revenue gains, the pace of growth is projected to decelerate in light of continued channel-shifting and a consumer preference toward generic drugs versus name brands. Drug stores are focused ...

Children's Clothing - US

"Although future growth faces some challenges due to declining birth rates, the market is steady. Retailers need to find ways to evolve the meaning of value and convenience for parents, especially as they do more shopping online. Further, looking to existing shoppers to drive incremental sales will be important for ...

Back to School Shopping - US

"The BTS (back-to-school) shopping season is the second largest retail sales period of the year behind the winter holidays, representing a key time for retailers to engage with both parents and kids and also to build relationships and loyalty that may be leveraged at other shopping moments. Loyalty often begins ...

Consumers and the Economic Outlook Q1: Defining Financial Success - US

"The US economy continues its slow upward trajectory, even as discussion of tariffs and trade discussions cause the stock market to fluctuate a great deal. US unemployment – already at extremely low levels – decreased further in October of 2018, while labor force participation remained steady. Despite a slight dip ...
