

August 2013

In-Car Electronics: Entertainment and Navigation - US

“Those who haven’t shopped for a new car in the past 5 years may be surprised to find out that a technological coup has taken place on the vehicle dash. Gone are tactile controls and, in their stead, many automakers are now offering touchscreens with interactive controls that allow for ...

July 2013

Vehicle Financing - US

“As Americans suffer from upside down mortgage payments and from stagnating wages, there continues to be a large portion of “payment buyers” in the automotive lending sector; these are buyers who care more about their monthly payments than the net expense of the financing. These borrowers will benefit more from ...