

November 2014

Wine - Brazil

“Brazil has a wide range of high-quality and award-winning wines, but its consumption is still relatively low compared to other alcoholic beverages, such as beer. By using the expertise of the beer category – the most popular alcoholic drink among Brazilians – wine producers could help boost sales of the ...