

October 2013

Cruises - US

“The cruise industry is the fastest growing travel segment and is expected to continue its expansion through added capacity. However, global per passenger revenues have remained essentially flat from 2008-13, which begs the question of whether growth is sustainable, and how cruise lines will ensure that demand—and revenues—will keep up ...