

May 2023

Digital Channels in Financial Services - UK

“Although satisfaction with digital channels is high, especially with younger consumers, providers, this could be tested through the cost of living crisis. Complementing digital channels with strong customer service and ensuring the availability of a ‘human touch’ for more complex financials tasks will provide consumers with the convenience they seek ...