

June 2017Consumer Attitudes towards
FinTech - Canada

“Awareness of some of the newer digital products is still fairly low so companies offering these products need to explain to Canadians how these products can simplify their financial lives.”

May 2017The Home Buying Process - Canada

“The majority of Canadians expect proactive government policy intervention to cool overheated real estate markets, with the Greater Toronto Area being the most likely significant source of economic spillover effects if there is a noteworthy market correction.”

– Sanjay Sharma, Senior Financial Services Analyst