"The plumbing products sector is continuing to benefit from stronger new construction activity, and demand from this sector has grown faster during the recovery than retail sales activity. Prospects for the plumbing products market are strong, particularly as wet rooms are identified by consumers as a key feature of the home."
– Terry Leggett, Senior B2B Analyst

This report looks at the following areas:

- How strongly will the market develop over the next five years?
- Is that growth sustainable over the entire five years and what will be the market drivers?
- Which regions hold the best prospects?
- Which product sectors now hold the best prospects?
- How have companies involved in the market fared during the downturn that followed 2008?

This report covers the UK market and industry for plumbing products - comprising domestic central heating products, commercial heating products, water heating products, bathroom and sanitaryware products, tubes, pipes and fittings, and kitchen products.
