“The logistical services sector is currently going through a period of digitalisation, with supply chain strategies undergoing changes or being completely overhauled to meet the challenges of new demands. The effective and efficient use of logistics space will be vital in making the most of the growing customer trend for ‘last mile’ and even ‘last metre’ delivery.”

– Lewis Cone, B2B Analyst

This report looks at the following areas:

- Use of technology could help dampen impact of Brexit and workforce shortages
- Changes to transport strategy will affect business costs and vehicle usage
