“Economic growth and stability plays a critical role in the development of South America’s outbound travel market. Brazil and Argentina may be the main engines of foreign travel, accounting for over half of all South American foreign departures, but smaller economies, such as Bolivia and Paraguay, are witnessing more dynamic growth.”

- Jessica Kelly, Senior Tourism Analyst

This report looks at the following areas:

- Which South American nations are leading outbound travel?
- How has South America outbound travel evolved over the past five years?
